The soloists will be: Sopranos, Miss Annie Grant and Mrs. B. M. Rogers; alto, Miss Maurice Grant; tenor, Mr. Melville Hensey; bass, Mr. Bernard Ryan; violinist, Mr. Schl. Mineter: organist. Mr. Armand Gumwas the first of the English musical comedles to be presented at Daly's Theater, and it was also one of the most successful. It ran nearly the whole winter at that theater and met with unvarying approval on its tour. The company at the Columbia will be augmented for this production. The scenery is being repainted by Henry E. Hoyt, who painted the original, and the costumes will be most attractive. "The Geisha" has not been done here for three years and the company that is to present it here will be the strongest that the agement can get together. "The G "The Geisha" fairly abounds in catchy bits of song and lied with the National Brotherhood of chorus work and there is never a let-down from the opening chorus to the finale in the high standard of composition. One of the features of these musical comedies is the splendid orchestra which the manage-ment have supplied. They will go even a Sullivan, who is making special efforts to step farther next week and strengthen the orchestra effects by the addition of a harp. The harp has never been used in any pre-vious production of "The Geisha" in this city. The same popular scale of prices will prevail and there will be matinees on Thursday and Saturday. THE SKINNER-ROBSON-LE MOYNE TOUR.—What many people will consider the most important dramatic event of the season in America is the tour of the Otis Skinner, Eleanor Robson and Sarah Cowell Le Moyne company under the direction of Liebler & Co., in Robert Browning's "fragment of a drama," as he himself referred to "In a Balcony," and W. B. Yeats' symbolic play, "The Land of Heart's Desire. For the latter play the enterprising firm has engaged a special cast of such unusual excellence and with such regard for particular fitness to intelligently interpret, lightfully act and to look the roles assigned to them as to cause praising comthe fortieth annual convention of the Na- ment in dramatic circles everywhere. Liebler & Co. secured Otis Skinner to play Norbert in "In a Balcony" by a special arrangement with his manager, Joseph Buck-ley. Mrs. Le Moyne and Eleanor Robson are under contract to Liebler & Co. for a term of years. This combination with the two plays already named will appear at the New National Theater on the night of Thursday. May 16, for a single per-formance. The event is one that should not alone enlist the attention of the entire Browning cult, but it must inevitably ap-peal very strongly to men and women of intelligence everywhere, whether they be ardent admirers of Browning or not. The single presentation of "In a Balcony" at Wallack's Theater in New York last fall has left the impression among those who by the various committees. It was re-witnessed it that this tour will prove one of the most notable in this history of the drama in America. As before, "In a Balcony" will be preceded by W. B. Yeats' symbolic fantasy, "The Land of Heart's Desire." The sale of seats will open at the box office tomorrow morning.

"THE MAGISTRATE."-Arthur W. Pine ro's high-class farcical comedy, "The Mag-istrate," is in rehearsal by the Lafayette Square stock company for presentation next week. Pinero has written many clever and ingenious plays, but few have achieved the tremendous success scored by "The Magistrate." The play has been trans-lated into nearly every civilized language, and has been performed in practically every country on the globe. It was originally given in London in 1885, and the same year scored a big hit in New York. At various times since then it has been revarious times since then it has been revived, and always with the same popularity. "The Magistrate" is a whimsical comedy with a clearly defined plot cleverly constructed and many amusing characters. The principal role, as may be imagined, is that of the magistrate himself, an upright gentlemen, who is enticed into a midnight upper by a scapegrace stepson. The magistrate's wife and her sister, on a perfect ly legitimate errand, are led to the same hotel where the magistrate is taking sup-per. The parties have adjoining rooms. In the midst of the hilarity the police raid the hotel for keeping open after hours. The magistrate and the stepson escape by leaping through the window, but the wif and her sister, escorted by two military gentlemen, are caught, and for resisting arrest are tried the next morning before magistrate, who, before he realized that his wife is facing him in the dock entences her to seven days' imprisonment without the option of a fine. Through a technicality the sentence is afterward set aside, and the indignant wife returns home, where she soon assumes the position of merriment, as it began. In the proceedings for divorce instituted by Sallie R. Reeves against J. Edgar Reeves Justice Hagner has dismissed the bill of complaint.

The Royal Hun-Reports of the Work Done by Agents garian Gypsy Band of New York city which has participated in the larger social functions of the metropolis, has been engaged to furnish music for the evening until the house orchestra begins the overture, also during the twenty-minute intermission and after the performances for an unlimited time. An attractive array of novelties is contained in the program, the most prominent being the new and suc-cessful vaudeville version of Irving's famous legend of the Catskills immortalized in the drama as "Rip Van Winkle." In the necessary condensation the three prin-cipal incidents in Rip's career are retainand Mr. Charles F. Weller. After the readed. His encounter with the dwarfs in the mountains, his toast to them and his long ing of the minutes and the transaction of sleep are shown by a biograph picture machine which is thus employed for the first time in a dramatic presentation. Rip played by George Ober, who has been identified with the role for many years and is in no sense an imitator of Jefferson. A company of four persons assists and effects. Mrs. Gen. Tom Thumb, the celebrated lilliputian, and her own company will appear in "A Peep at Mars." Shean and Warren will give the most amusing travesty of the season, entitled "Quo Vadis Upside Down." Geo. W. Day will provide wit and story in abundance, and C. W. Littlefield exhibit his skill as a mimetic comedian. The twelve biograph pictures may be relied upon to prove entertaining. found to have given false addresses. "EAST LYNNE."-Leah Lessi will present her new version of Mrs. Henry Woods' world-famous novel, "East Lynne," at the Academy next week. This story of the heart fully illustrates a woman's love, faith, hope and trials. No play of the present day enjoys such popularity as this thrilling emotional drama has commanded. The story reflects the felicities at the fireside, where confidence and mutual love alone are known, as well as the tortures of a jealous mind and the remorse attending misplaced confidence. It may be regarded as the pet attraction of the well-known firm of burlesque managers, and in its equipment they have spared neither pains nor expense. The burlesques, which form-erly pleased, have undergone a few changes which are said to have enlivened them. Neither of the burlesques lacked spice during the first engagement, and both, it is said, are replete with fresh incidents, including the disrobing scene. They afford Rita Gough, a recent acquisition, especial opportunity. Among the artists whose versatility is given wide scope in the olio, as well as in the burlesques, are George E. FAVOR MANUFACTORIES

EAST WASHINGTON ASSOCIATION GOES ON RECORD.

Members Requested to Attend Mass Meeting in Interest of Local Industrial Mesement. The members of the East Washington Citizens' Asociation placed themselves squarely on record last night as favoring the promotion of manufacturing industries in the District. The regular meeting of the association was held in the hall at 4th and East Capitol streets, and the question of inviting manufacturing interests to Washington was the main topic of the evening. The members were requested to attend the mass meeting at Masonic Temple tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Business Men's Association, when it is proposed to take some further action in regard to the movement to bring manufacturing plants here.

The result of the discussion at the meeting last night was the adoption of a resolution stating that the association heartily favors any and all efforts to increase the industries of the District of Columbia. Addresses were made by President Thos. W. Smith, B. W. Clark, C. A. Shields and M. I. Weller. The latter was quite en-thusiastic and emphatic in his expressions,

"We people who reside continualy in Washington don't object to a little smoke. It is only those who come here to spend a few months in the winter that make objection. The objectors are only those who make Washington a tarrying place for a comparatively short time, and their objections are to my mind very flimsy. Look at the immense wealth that has come to New England from manufactures. Con-necticut is today probably the richest state in the Union, and the beauty of her cities has not been impaired in any degree by the enterprises around which they have built up. Give us manufactories properly ted here, and boys can have plenty work, and won't have to loaf around the streets, as some of them have to do now for want of employment. All this talk about the smoke from furnaces injuring the appearance or marring the beauty of Washington is childish." President Smith spoke in much the sam

way, and said:
"Berlin is the greatest political center in Europe, or one of them, and who is it that will say Berlin has been marred in her beauty by her thousands of factories. The same may be said of Paris. Just as many tourists and fashionable people visit and live in Paris as anywhere else in the world and are not driven away by the smoke of factories.'

The association adopted a resolution requesting the District Commissioners to cement the sidewalk on the south side of Capitol street between 2d and 3d streets. A resolution protesting against the erection of any additional permanent business structures near the District correctional institutions was also adopted.

The Short Story Club. The Short Story Club met last evening at the residence of Mrs. M. L. Willis. The principal story of the occasion, "A Twice Told Tale," was read by its author, Miss Gertrude Withington. A selection from "David Copperfield" was very delightfully given by Mrs. Jean B. Lockwood, who contributed, also, a short humorous reading. Dr. L. R. Klemm read an original storiette, entitled "A Question," and Mr. Clifford Howard contributed a short story, The Appointed Time." contributions from Mrs. Metcalf concluded the literary exercises. SCHLEY HOME FUND. Inaugural Chorus' Concert at Con-

The Inaugural Chorus, assisted by Mrs. Thomas C. Noyes and Haley's Band, sang at Convention Hall last night for the benefit of the Schley home fund, a fund to be applied to the purchase of a home in the District of Columbia for Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley. The business managment of the concert was in the hands of a committee of one hundred. Mr. Percy S. Foster was the musical director. The great chorus of 500 voices sustained the reputation which it has earned. The attendance was not as large as the promotors of the concert hoped it would be, but in spite of the opposition of several attractive amusements in the city last night the fund was materially increased. The amount realized is not known, the returns from all places at which tickets were for sale not having been made. From an artistic viewpoint the concert was an unqualified success.

The velvety and sympathetic voice of Mrs. Noves was heard in the aria from "Samson and Delilah" and Nevin's "Dream Maker Man," after each of which she was compelled to sing an encore number. Haley's Band followed the spirit of the leader's baton faultlessly and accompanied the choral numbers. It also played several selections effectively. Mr. E. B. Hay de-livered a short address before the musical program was entered upon. The program was as follows: "America"...

KING'S SONS AND DAUGHTERS.

t Work Done in Aid of Junior Republic. An address was delivered last evening at a meeting of the District branch of the Order of the King's Daughters and Sons at Epiphany Church, by Mrs. Mason, secretary of the Maryland branch. In the course of this address the speaker laid emphasis upon the importance of the members recognizing their obligations in carrying out the principles of the order.

At the session yesterday, which began the annual meeting, a report was made by Miss Emma Leech upon the National Junior Republic at Annapolis Junction, which the organization is aiding. An account was given of the progress made in increasing the accommodations of the institution to enable it to meet the demands upon it. The reports received from the various officers were of an encouraging character and showed an increase in the membership, which now numbers 300.

Pleas Withdrawn.

In Criminal Court No. 1 yesterday Thomas Snow, convicted of the larceny of certain property from Minnie De Villiers. withdrew his motion for a new trial. He was thereupon sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary at Moundsville, W. Va. for one year and one day. Mary Twining, alias Mary Twyman, indicted for larceny, withdrew her plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. Sentence was suspended and the defendant released on
